2017 Asian Nuclear Medicine Academic Forum

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

On behalf of the Asian School of Nuclear Medicine (ASNМ), it is my greatest pleasure to invite you to Shanghai, China for the 2017 Asian Nuclear Medicine Academic Forum in May.

This Asian Academic Forum 2017 will be expecting Prof. Henry Bom, Prof. Jun Hatazawa and Prof. Gang Huang whom will be joining us as the Co-Chairmans for the forum.

With the success of the last Forum, the 2017 Academic Forum aims to continue bridging the Nuclear Medicine findings from different regions. We strive to provide an opportunity for all NM professionals to showcase their hard work.

We encourage physicians, technologists, scientists, lab professionals, and educators in the field of nuclear medicine to come forth and enlighten our audience from the Asian regions. The ASNМ Secretariat is working on the registration website which is supposed to be completed in January, 2017. We will start accept online application and abstract submission afterwards and more details will be finalized at that time.

ASNМ eagerly looks forward to receiving our ASNМ Academic Forum guests in Shanghai. With all of the region's engagement, our combined expertise at our Forum will surely push the boundaries of NM development!

Sincerely yours,

Gang Huang,
Dean
